Re: Motorola North East Consolidation Project

Dear Jim,

I am writing to express my sincere appreciation for the superior service delivered by The Relco Companies to Motorola during their North East Consolidation. This project revolved around the electrical infrastructure needed to support Motorola's highly sensitive business critical labs and The Relco Companies stepped up to the challenging task. The leadership teams you have in place delivering your service lines are second to none; their overall performance in delivering the 230,000 SF of mix used space (office and lab) through a very aggressive multi-phased schedule was outstanding.

I also want to thank you for quality of the product lines delivered by The Relco Companies; every member of your implementation teams represented your firm with a strong attention to detail. We have received many compliments on your scope of work from the Motorola customers and your peers as well.

Lastly, I want to recognize Kevin Glasheen for his relentless efforts and non-stop "determined focus". This was with a doubt the key to this project's success. Kevin impressed me the most with the way his team respected and supported him through this massive effort. His ability to lead your team to the finish line and gain the respect of every single member of the entire project team was very impressive.

Thanks again Jim for your team's efforts, I look forward to working with The Relco Companies again in the future. Go Relco!

Very truly yours,
